Transnational report

We are thrilled to announce that we have completed the transnational report for the DIGI HELICON project. This report is a culmination of our efforts to empower current and aspiring artists by developing their digital skills and competences. The report consists of a comprehensive mapping of the needs, skills, and competences of artists in Germany, Greece, France, Italy, Netherlands, and Cyprus. We have also included audience preferences and consumption trends for artists. The data collected through focus groups, in-depth interviews, and structured questionnaires provides valuable insights into the issues discussed. Our aim is to fill the gaps and meet the needs of artists and aspiring artists. The conclusions and recommendations drawn from the data will help us achieve this goal. We hope that this report will be a valuable resource for all those interested in the development of digital skills and competences for artists.

The final transnational report for the DIGI HELICON project is available in all partner languages (German, Greek, French, Italian, Dutch).

It can be downloaded here from our website:

Methodology Guide

Our methodology guide "Artists Go Digital: Aspire to Inspire Handbook and Methodology" has been completed! This comprehensive guide is designed to help current and aspiring artists develop their digital skills and competences, empowering them to take their artistic practice to the next level. Our methodology guide is packed with valuable insights and practical tips on how to integrate good practices into your educational methodology, as well as how to implement them during workshops with artists and aspiring artists.

Whether you're an artist, arts/cultural organization, artists' organization, or adult education provider, this guide is an essential resource for anyone looking to improve their digital skills and competences. At its core, our methodology guide is all about helping artists bridge their learning gaps and needs. By providing a clear perspective on what kind of good practices can be used and integrated, we aim to empower artists to take control of their own learning and development. We believe that every artist has the potential to achieve great things, and our methodology guide is designed to help you unlock that potential.

So why wait? Download your copy of "Artists Go Digital: Aspire to Inspire Handbook and Methodology" in your language today and start taking your artistic practice to the next level!
